Dear Mr. Dean,

The Company and Union have discussed and agreed that the DCPP Materials classifications and Material classifications in LA R2-13-37 Job Definitions and Lines of Progression (JDLOP) for Section 600.2, Exhibit VI-A, for Materials Distribution and Division Materials Departments Including Gas Transmission & Storage should no longer be considered separate classifications.

The Material Classifications, both within DCPP and outside of DCPP, perform the same work, have the same job description, and are compensated at the same wage scales. The following Table includes the Material Classifications at DCPP and the equivalent Materials Classifications.

TABLE 1:

Column 1: Material Classifications DCPP	SAP Code	=	Column 2: Material Classifications rest of System	SAP Code
DCPP Materials Facility Person	50486841	=	Materials Facility Person	50010265
DCPP Materials Leadperson	50486839	=	Materials Leadperson	50010239
DCPP Materials Handler-Hired Before 2009	50486840	=	Materials Handler-Hired before 2009	50010262
DCPP Materials Handler-Hired 2009 or later	50486843	=	Materials Handler-Hired 2009 or later	50251335

Upon signature of this agreement the DCPP Material classification will be reclassified to the equivalent classification title outside of DCPP. All DCPP Material employee's classifications listed in Column 1 will be changed to their corresponding system classification in Column 2. This update will provide equality to all other contractual provisions and other Letters of Agreements including the Materials JDLOPs (currently R2-13-37), job bidding (Ex. R3-13-34), demotion, and all other agreements applicable to these classifications. For seniority purposes all time accrued in a DCPP Materials classification will be treated as time in the equivalent Materials classification. This reclassification does not impact training requirements, or unescorted access requirements, currently in place for DCPP Materials classifications.

We propose the following correction. All DCPP Material employee's classifications listed in Column 1 will be changed to their corresponding system classification in Column 2.

Mr. Bob Dean
